‘I HAVE COME THAT YOU MIGHT HAVE LIFE AND HAVE IT TO THE FULL’

(Jn.10.10)

1. INTRODUCTION

We have based our Academy’s Relationship Sex and Health Education (RSHE) Policy in line with advice from Birmingham Diocese, the Church’s teaching in all such matters and on the DfE guidance document ‘Relationship Education, Relationship and Sex Education and Health Education.’ (RSHE)

The DfE guidance states that “children and young people need to know how to be safe and healthy, and how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way.” It is about the development of the pupil’s knowledge and understanding of her or him as a sexual being, about what it means to be fully human, called to live in right relationships with self and others and being enabled to make moral decisions in conscience.

In primary schools the focus should be on “teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships, with particular reference to friendships, family relationships, and relationships with other children and with adults.” This would include the topics of families and the people of who care for me, caring friendships, respectful relationships, online relationships and being safe.

In Secondary schools RSHE should “give young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships. It should enable them to know what a healthy relationship looks like and what makes a good friend, a good colleague and a successful marriage or other type of committed relationship. It should also cover contraception, developing intimate relationships and resisting pressure to have sex (and not applying pressure).”

We are involved in relationships and sex education precisely because of our Christian beliefs about God and about the human person. The belief in the unique dignity of the human person made in the image and likeness of God underpins the approach to all education in a Catholic school. Our approach to RSHE therefore is rooted in the Catholic Church’s teaching of the human person and presented in a positive framework of Christian ideals. At the heart of the Christian life is the Trinity; Father, Son and Spirit in communion, united in loving relationship and embracing all people and all creation. As a consequence of the Christian belief that we are made in the image and likeness of God, gender and sexuality are seen as God’s gift, reflect God’s beauty, and share in the divine creativity. RSE, therefore, will be placed firmly within the context of relationship as it is there that sexuality grows and develops.

Following the guidance of the Bishops of England and Wales and as advocated by the DfE, RSHE will be firmly embedded in the PSHE framework as it is concerned with nurturing human wholeness and integral to the physical, spiritual, emotional, moral, social and intellectual development of pupils. It is centred on Christ’s vision of being human as good news and will be positive and prudent, showing the potential for development, while enabling the dangers and risks involved to be understood and appreciated. All RSHE will be in accordance with the Church’s moral teaching. While we use sex education to inform children about sexual issues, we do this with regard to matters of morality and individual responsibility, and in a way that allows children to ask and explore moral questions. We do not use sex education as a means of promoting any form of sexual orientation.

2. AIM OF RSHE AND THE MISSION STATEMENT

Our Academy's Mission Statement commits us to the education of the whole child (spiritual, physical, intellectual, moral, social, cultural, emotional) and we believe that RSHE is an integral part of this education. Furthermore, our school aims state that we will endeavour to raise pupils' self-esteem, help them to grow in knowledge and understanding, recognise the value of all persons and develop caring and sensitive attitudes.

It is in this context that we commit ourselves in partnership with parents to provide children and young people with a "positive and prudent sexual education" which is compatible with their physical, cognitive, psychological, and spiritual maturity, and rooted in a Catholic vision of education and the human person.

3. OBJECTIVES

- To promote the belief that each human person has a unique and special dignity and worth at each stage of life.
- To explore the meaning and value of life, and give some appreciation of the values of life.
- To promote the importance of family life.
- To encourage pupils to be aware of their attitudes and values and have a sense of responsibility for themselves.
- To enable the development of well informed, balanced persons capable of making choices and accepting responsibility for the consequences of their actions.
- To enable pupils to develop personal and social skills to help them keep them in a safe, positive (healthy) relationships.
- To foster the attitude that what we say with our bodies should reflect what we mean in our hearts and minds.

We teach children about:

- the physical development of their bodies as they grow into adults;
- the way humans reproduce;
- respect for their own bodies and the importance of sexual activity as part of a committed, long-term, and loving relationship in marriage as the ideal;
- moral questions;
- relationship issues;
- respect for the views of other people;
- sex abuse and what they should do if they are worried about any sexual matters.

4. CONTEXT

- It will focus on the development of the whole person.
- It will take into account the ages and development of the children.

- Sex education should be taught in the context of marriage and family life;
- Sex education is part of a wider social, personal, spiritual and moral education process;
- Children should be taught to have respect for their own bodies;
- Children should learn about their responsibilities to others, and be aware of their consequences;
- It is important to build positive relationships with others, involving trust and respect;
- Children need to learn the importance of self-control.

Sessions are also followed up in to ensure pupils have the opportunity to air any concerns.

Question and answer sessions will be in line with the teachings of the Catholic Church and any questions that can't be answered in school will be referred to parents. In instances where a question cannot be fully addressed in the classroom, school's will work in conjunction with parents and carers to provide appropriate responses, ensuring that both home and school work together to support pupils in understanding sensitive topics in a manner consistent with Catholic values.

It will be subject to regular review and updating on content and teaching methods. Consultation with all stakeholders including parents is an essential part of the process.

5. OUTCOMES: INCLUSION AND DIFFERENTIATED LEARNING

We will ensure RSHE is sensitive to the different needs of individual pupils in respect to pupils' different abilities, levels of maturity and personal circumstances; for example, their own sexual orientation, faith or culture and is taught in a way that does not subject pupils to discrimination. Lessons will also help children to realise the nature and consequences of discrimination, teasing, bullying and aggressive behaviours (including cyber-bullying), use of prejudice-based language and how to respond and ask for help.

6. EQUALITIES OBLIGATIONS

The Board of Directors have wider responsibilities under the Equalities Act 2010 and will ensure that our schools strive to do the best for all of the pupils, irrespective of disability, educational needs, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, pregnancy, maternity, sex, gender identity, religion or sexual orientation or whether they are looked-after children.

Issues not discussed as part of the Primary School’s RSHE programme:

- Homosexuality
- Masturbation
- Oral sex
- Contraception
- Abortion
- Rape

Sensitive issues such as homosexuality, masturbation, contraception, sexually transmitted diseases, abortion and rape (in terms of consent), are discussed as part of the Secondary RSHE curriculum. They are discussed in a manner which is appropriate to the ethos of the school and the values of the Church which sees life-giving relationships and sexual activity as a gift from God.

8. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Role of Parents

The school recognises that Relationship, Sex and Health Education is a shared responsibility between home and school. It also acknowledges the advice of the Bishop’s conference:

St John Paul II Multi Academy Company

‘It is the privilege and responsibility of the family to inform and educate their children in all matters pertaining to human growth and development, particularly the sensitive area of sex education.’

We wish to build a positive and supporting relationship with the parents of children at our school through mutual understanding, trust and co-operation. In promoting this objective, we:

- inform parents about the school’s sex education policy and practice;
- answer any questions that parents may have about the sex education of their child;
- take seriously any issue that parents raise with teachers, governors or directors about this policy or the arrangements for sex education in the school;
- encourage parents to be involved in reviewing the policy and resources;

Parents have the right to withdraw their child from all or part of the sex education programme that we teach in our school. If a parent wishes their child to be withdrawn from sex education lessons, they should discuss this with the Principal, and make it clear which aspects of the programme they do not wish their child to participate in.

All teaching materials used in RSHE are available to parents and carers upon request, ensuring transparency and fostering collaboration between the school and home in delivering education that aligns with Catholic values.

Role of the Board of Directors

- To keep up to date the RSHE policy, in consultation with parents and will make copies of the policy available to them.
- To ensure that the policy is in accordance with other whole school policies.
- To make known to parents their right to withdraw their children from all parts of the SRE provided at school except for the science parts in the Statutory National Curriculum.
- To establish a link RSHE Director to share in the monitoring and evaluation of the programme, including resources used.

Role of the Principal

The Principal takes overall delegated responsibility for the implementation of this policy and for liaison with the Board of Directors, parents, the Diocesan Schools’ Service and the Local Education Authority, also appropriate agencies.

Role of the PSHE/RSHE Leader

The RSHE leader with the Principal has a general responsibility for supporting other members of staff in the implementation of this policy and will provide a lead in the dissemination of the information relating to RSHE and the provision of in-service training.

Role of all Staff

RSHE is a whole school issue. All teachers have a responsibility of care; as well as fostering academic progress they should actively contribute to the guardianship and guidance of the physical, moral and spiritual well-being of their pupils. Teachers will be expected to teach RSHE in accordance with the Catholic Ethos of the school. Appropriate training will be made available for all staff teaching RSHE. All staff have been included in the development of this policy and all staff should be aware of the policy and how it relates to them.

9. CONFIDENTIALITY

Teachers conduct sex education lessons in a sensitive manner and in accordance with the schools safeguarding policy.

10. MONITORING AND REVIEW

The RSHE Co-ordinator will monitor the provision of the various dimensions of the programme by examining plans, schemes of work and samples of pupils work at regular intervals and evaluate it by means of questionnaires and/ or by discussion with pupils, staff and parents. The results of the evaluation should be reported to these groups of interested parties and their suggestions sought for improvements. The Board of Directors will consider all such evaluations and suggestions before amending the policy. The Board of Directors remain ultimately responsible for the policy and will review it annually.
